About Jobs for Maine’s Graduates (JMG)

JMG is an independent, statewide 501(c)(3) private nonprofit organization established in 1993. Initially created for high school seniors as a school-to-work program, JMG has evolved into an organization serving more than 4,200 students per year in more than 64 school-based sites, reaching into more than 200 Maine communities.

In its 17-year history, JMG has provided more than 24,000 students who were at the highest risk of disengaging from school or dropping out of school with the skills and motivation needed to succeed in higher education and the workforce.

JMG offers a venue for students to interact with employers and community-based organizations. The JMG program teaches 37 core competencies comprised of six skill sets: personal skills, leadership skills, communication skills, job attainment skills, job success skills, and career development skills.

A full time Specialist is trained, supported by JMG and, as a guest of the host school, teaches the model curricula to 45-55 students, much of which is accomplished through applied learning activities. Curriculum includes oral and written communications, time management, financial literacy, teambuilding, good work habits, community service, and academic supports.

The JMG programs include Jobs for Maine’s Graduates (high school), Project Reach (middle school), a program at LearningWorks in Portland, Youth Development Centers, Opportunity Passport and the Maine Mentoring Partnership.

JMG is successfully preparing Maine’s young people to be responsible and productive employees and citizens.
